VOCATIONS - In our first reading this weekend we hear about the people of Samaria receiving the Holy Spirit. As we approach Pentecost we pray for a fresh and powerful outpouring of the Holy Spirit on the Church, on the world, on our country, on our parish communities, and on each one of us. May the Spirit fill the hearts and minds of deacons, seminarians, and all those discerning a vocation to the diocesan priesthood, and may many more hear and follow the call to serve the Church as priests.

Sixth Sunday of Easter - 10 May 2026
Belonging and inclusion appeared in nearly every conversation. The Church is perceived as struggling to welcome those on the margins, those who have experienced relationship breakdown, those in second unions, those who feel judged or hurt, and those estranged from faith communities.
There is a deep desire for a listening Church that makes space for the wounded, those who are doubting, and those who feel on the margins. 'Belonging brings caring, mercy, compassion and love.

It is at the heart of who we are and builds community that belongs to Christ and is mutually beneficial to us all.' Participants stressed that 'a sense of belonging is fundamental for individuals within the Church community, linking it to family, education, and participation in faith.'
Some highlighted isolation, loneliness, and anxiety, and the marginalisation of many individuals and groups. Others insisted that welcome and inclusion must be more than an ideal, 'embracing everyone, especially those who may feel disconnected from the Church.'
Belonging was described as an emotional need and a Gospel imperative l inked to mission and evangelisation: 'it helps people to take responsibility, links to engagement and active membership, and is key to people being open to a journey of faith.'

Points to Ponder - We are only a little under three weeks now from the feast of Pentecost, which we celebrate on Sunday two weeks. It is hard to believe we are already more than halfway through the seven-week season of Easter.
As we get closer to the feast of Pentecost, we will begin to hear more references to the Holy Spirit in the readings that are proclaimed at Mass. In this morning's gospel reading Jesus says to his disciples, 'the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you everything and remind you of all that I have said to you.'
It is the evening before Jesus is put to death; his disciples are aware that Jesus is taking his leave of them. In that highly charged hour Jesus assures them that his leaving them, his death, will not be the end of his relationship with them.
He will send the Holy Spirit from the Father who will remind them of all Jesus said to them. Jesus' relationship with them will endure in and through the Holy Spirit.
Jesus is present to all of us, within all of us, in and through the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit brings Jesus to us today and brings us to Jesus.
That is why we need to keep on praying, 'Come Holy Spirit, fill my heart.' We keep asking the Spirit we have already received to keep on filling us more and more, filling our thoughts, words, deeds, filling our very being, so that our relationship with the Lord will continue to deepen.
